ICMC programs provide a structured coherent Islamic education to augment the traditional public education. The objective of the program is produce a new generation of Muslims who have the foundation of essential subjects needed to understand the core beliefs' of Islam, to understand the Fiqh of our religion, to learn the Seerah of the Prophet SWA, to learn Arabic the language of Jannah, and to have the desire and apatite to memorize the holy Quran. ICMC offers Sunday school, IQRA program, Hifz program and After school program. The latest addition; "After School Program" is structured to ensure continuity of curriculum between the existing programs through different age groups and education objectives. This continuity starts with IQRA Early Learning Academy (Ages 3 to 5) and continues through our Sunday school and My Islam After-School Program for older children.

Our children are an entrusted amanah from Allah SWT and we will be asked in the Day of Judgment if we took this amanah seriously. Learn about the new program, give a helping hand, encourage your children to enroll.

Programs Objectives:

Frequently Asked Questions

Programs - Which program is right for my child?

Parents should select the appropriate program depending on the Age and the objectives for their children. Parents of Students Ages 3 to 5 should look to place their children in the IQRA Early learning Academy (Islamic early education) while enriching their Islamic Education and Core Academic Subjects. Parents of Students ages 6 to 17 currently in a Public School should consider the My Islam After-School Program which is designed to augment public education with required structured Islamic education while giving them a supervised place to study while parents are at work. Students of All Ages who intend to memorize the entire Quran should consider the Noor Al-Quran Hifz program. If it's not feasible for students to enroll in the IQRA and/or After-School Program, parents as a must should consider Sunday school.

Transportation - What if I can't drive my child to the after school program?

ICMC will assist to facilitate transportation services and even arrange to pick up your children from their Home or Public Schools within 6-mile radius from ICMC.

Part Time - What if I don't want my child to come all five days of the week for the after-school?

Each class will be broadcasted allowing absent students to attend it online

Sunday School vs After-School Program - Would Sunday school be enough compared to after-school program?

Sunday school offers 3 hours while after-school offers 10 hours per week. The additional hours of the after-school program will enable students to focus and internalize the subjects in a manner and methodology similar to a full Islamic school.

Financial Aid - What if I am not able to pay for the tuition of the classes?

The objective of ICMC is provide world class Islamic education for the community to produce a second generation of Muslims of love and embrace their religion. Fees of the programs are designed to enable the center to continue its mission but will not prevent enrolling students who cannot afford the cost of benefiting from the program. The center will provide financial aid on case by case basis
